

<episode begins on Kelen back at the cave>

Kelen: She chose a cave of all places. How cliché.

<she walks around the cave, finding assorted boxes and then an alien type weapon [don't know which yet]>

Kelen: This technology... is not from around here.

<she then picks it up and begins to scan it, checking it out. She then walks out of the cave and there is a white flash from the weapon as soon as it reaches outside>

Kelen: Ow! My eyes!

<she drops the weapon and then it begins beeping and then vanishes>

Kelen: That was... odd.

<She stands there for a few seconds more and then turns to look at the lake, then she turns and begins running back towards the base>

<the camera then goes back to the base with everyone else>

O'Brian: Hey... guys.

Collins: Did you seriously go and get yourself captured?

O'Brian: It was not like I volunteered for it!

Valarie: Everyone shut up. Take me to your main communications and all of you will be ok.

Jones: Why are we taking orders from you? You are one woman against... one, two... three guys.

Jasper: I believe you counted over someone.

Jones: No, I counted right. I included Collins out.

Collins: Oh fuck you.

Valarie: Everyone shut up!

Jones: You shut up!

Valarie: -growls and then shoots a bullet at Jones-

Collins: Wow you have a really bad way with women.

O'Brian: Calm down guys... do you guys even realize that my life is in danger right now?

Collins: Yes we noticed.

O'Brian: And you are just standing there...

Jasper: Pretty much.

O'Brian: This has got to be the worst squad ever...

<it goes quiet for a moment>

Valarie: -sighs- Are you all finished now?

Jones: Finished? Finished with what?

Valarie: Your bickering.

Collins: Oh, that never stops.

O'Brian: We just take breaks from time to time. You know, get the juices going for some new insults.

Jones: Hey if you want, you can be the new Kelen. Women are all the same, so I am sure you will take offense to the insults we throw at her exactly the same. Here let me give you an example....

<Valarie shoots a bullet and this time it hits him>

Jones: Ow the pain! And I hadn't even said the insult yet....

Collins: Hey who are you? Just shooting off guns like it is no big deal.

<Valarie raises her gun and aims it at him>

Collins: Don't shoot me!

<Collins then hides behind Jones>

Valarie: My name is Valarie Payne and if you had been listening, I want to be taken to your communications.

Jasper: I do not believe they will work.

Valarie: And why not?

O'Brian: They worked just fine the other day.

Jasper: Oh right, never mind.

Valarie: You are all so weird...

O'Brian: Here I will take you there.

Valarie: Finally, someone with the sensible mind.

O'Brian: Actually, I just want to be released.

Collins: That is a first O'Brian. You want to be released from the clutches of a woman. I am proud of you mate.

O'Brian: On second thought...

Valarie: No take backs.

<Valarie spins him around so O'Brian and her are helmet to helmet>

Valarie: You are taking me to the communications...now.

O'Brian: o-ok.

Valarie: The rest of you stay here, no one is allowed to move... a muscle.

Jones: Well my arm is bleeding... and I am sure my muscles are moving every second... so does that mean what you just said does not apply to me?

Valarie: I am sure I can arrange for every muscle of yours to die and then for you to stop moving. Does that sound good.

Jones: Nope I am good –sniffs in some air- Ahhh I love to be alive.

Valarie: Is anyone else going to interrupt me now?

Collins: Ugh...

Valarie: Shut it.

Collins: ok...

Jasper: I will go with you to the communications room. I don't want you suddenly murdering my friend.

O'Brian: Thanks Jasper. There is someone who I can count on.

Valarie: Fine, let's go. You two seal the gate and don't let anyone in.

Jones: So we are your lackeys now.

Collins: I, being British, reject this for I am a noble man. I do not just take orders from anyone.

Valarie: You will not die, how about that?

Collins: Sounds good, let's go Jones.

<the camera follows Jones and Collins as they seal the gate>

Collins: Aren't we forgetting about someone?

Jones: What do you mean?

Kelen: Helloooooooooo

<the camera then looks down at Kelen who is at the entrance of the gate that is closed>

Collins: Oh, hello there Kelen!

Kelen: Why is the gate not opened?

Jones: No girls allowed! That's why!

Collins: Yeah –coughs- actually we were told not to open it.

Kelen: By who?

Collins: Valarie.

Jones: Yeah that other woman... -shivers like in disgust of another girl being there-

Kelen: You mean the girl I had knocked out and Jasper and O'Brian were supposed to watch?

Collins: Yes, that exact one.

Kelen: Great... so that means she is awake now right?

Collins: Typically when someone gives orders that means they are awake.

Jones: Wow Kelen you got stupid.

Kelen: Stupid huh?

<she goes off screen and to a corner of the gate, sounds of mechanical pieces and like electricity buzzing goes around>

Collins: What exactly are you doing down there?

Jones: -whispers- She has gotten crazier...

Kelen: I believe you all forgot who I was. I am not just here to entertain all of you, there is a reason for why I was brought to this squad.

<as she finished the sounds disappear and the gate opens.

Collins: ...how...

Kelen: And once you remember why, maybe you would understand why I was able to open this gate.

<Kelen then walks inside the base, gun ready and aiming straight ahead>

Kelen: Where is she?

Collins: They went to the communications room.

Kelen: Thanks.

<she then runs off towards the room>

Jones: Women now frighten me... but they are still disgusting me

<the camera goes to O'Brian, Jasper and Valarie>

<O'Brian and Jasper are in a corner watching Valarie, they are speaking in whispered tones>

O'Brian: What do you think she is doing?

Jasper: I can totally tell she is not looking for socks.

O'Brian: -looks at Jasper- are you ok Jasper?

Jasper: Just dandy.

O'Brian: ok... well do you still have active... oh right, why would you lose it.

Jasper: -begins to talk normal- you mean my active

O'Brian: shhhhhhhhhhhhhhh

<Valarie looks at them for a second and then goes back to work>

O'Brian: Jeez. I need you go into active camo and then knock her out.

Jasper: I can't.

O'Brian: Why not?

Jasper: The active camo is on random, I can't just control...

<he then enters active camo>

Jasper: Well that was convenient.

<he slowly approaches Valarie and you can hear her muttering to herself. He is almost right next to her when a loud screeching sound goes through the intercoms>

O'Brian: GOD DAMN!

<it goes quiet and Valarie is in front of O'Brian's face, gun in hand and pointed at him>

Valarie: What did you do to it?

O'Brian: Excuse me?

Valarie: The communications! They are broken. What did you do!?

O'Brian: I...ugh...

<Jasper then comes up behind Valarie and knocks her out, but still remains in active camo>

Jasper: Sorry that took so long.

O'Brian: She could have killed me!

Jasper: I said sorry.

O'Brian: What was she talking about when she said communications were down?

Jasper: I had been trying to tell you that, but they have been down for a long time now.

O'Brian: Then who did I talk to the other day?

Kelen: You talked to whispers...

<the guys turn around and see Kelen enter, she is looking down at Valarie>

Jasper: I am pretty sure there is no one by the name whispers.

Kelen: No. There have been whispers or static going through the communications line. Means that someone is interfering with communication.

O'Brian: And why would someone be doing that?

Kelen: For the same reason why we are being held at this base.

Jasper: You know... when I was scoping out all that time, I had noticed some strange things happened.

O'Brian: and you never told us? Man, I feel like the worst leader right now. No one is telling me anything.

Kelen: There is a reason for that.

O'Brian: What?

Kelen: They are aiming to kill you O'Brian...

Jasper: oh...

O'Brian: ...shit.

<end episode>